

STATUS OF BOYS AND MEN OF COLOR

Darren D. Kelly, Ph.D.

Deputy to the Vice President for Diversity and Community Engagement
The University of Texas at Austin

WHAT IS HAPPENING TO OUR BOYS AND MEN OF COLOR?

Post-secondary education enrollment and completion are increasing for both Black and Latino males, but the gender gaps have remained stable; in other words, Black and Latina females continue to outperform their male counterparts.

Black males enter two-year institutions at a higher rate than Latino males, but complete certificates or degrees at a lower rate.
